At East Horton, we never forget that golf is to be enjoyed by members, guests and visitors alike. You cannot fail to enjoy your golf in a setting like this.

Greenwood is a stunning 6,186 yard championship standard course and was re-designed in 2009 by Ryder Cup player Guy Hunt. It sets out across a tributary of the River Hamble, around the ancient woodland from which it gets its name. The view from the top holes, in particular, is breathtaking. With a 160-yard carry over an imposing lake, the 17th makes even the best golfers concentrate.

Parkland is a challenging 5,672 yard championship standard golf course, set on beautiful, mature parkland. The Parkland Course will test your entire repertoire of shots – it's a great test for golfers of all abilities. Looks may be deceiving because even scratch golfers have to focus on their course management here.

Marwell is a 1,000 yard, 9-hole, par 3 that is ideal for a quick round, and for youngsters and learners. With holes varying from 90 to 150 yards, the Marwell Course is a great way to get juniors hooked on the game or to fine-tune your short game. It's also perfect for learners, or if you haven't got time for a complete round.
